

"FAREWELL"

WORDS BY
E. WAUGH.

MUSIC BY
C. E. ROWLEY.

VOICE.

PIANO.

1. The light of day is dy - ing Be -
2. Fare - well the scenes of child - hood; Life's 3. Sweet Spring will come with wild - flow'rs To 4. Fare - well, my love, for e - ver, From

- yond the heav - ing sea; The hope - ful dream is o'er; Fare - gem my na - tive shore; And thee, too, I must part; To plain - tive wind is sigh - - ing A - cross the well to field and wild - - wood; I shall re - June will deck the green bowers That I shall know thee, and to se - - ver. The tale of fa - - ding lea, _____ A - cross the fa - - ding

 - turn no more, _____ I shall re - turn no see no more, _____ That I shall see no this sad heart, _____ The tale of this sad lea: _____ Fare - - well, fare - - well. The more: _____ Fare - - well, fare - - well. Fate

 more: _____ Fare - - well, fare - - well. Fate heart: _____ Fare - - well, fare - - well. When fire burns low, and I must go, To wan - - der wills it so, and I must go, To wan - - der wills it so that I must go, To wan - - der ro - - ses grow on win - - ter's snow, I'll come to far a - lone, To wan - - der far a - far a - lone, To wan - - der far a -

 far a - lone, To wan - - der far a - thee a - gain, I'll come to thee a -

- lone;
 - lone;
 - lone;
 - gain;
 Fare - - - well,

Fare - - - well